LEOPOLD SAYS LOEB HAS BAD BRAIN OF TWO

Turns on His Pal and Says Public Will Never Know Truth

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 17.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., college graduate student and millionaire's son, with Richard Loeb, awaiting trial on charges of kidnapping and slaying Robert Franks, declares the real story of the boy's death will never be told, says the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Both boys are being given physical and psychological tests by alienists whose reports will be the basis of the defense in their trial August 4.

Leopold is quoted by the newspaper as saying only the two defense attorneys, two examining alienists and Loeb and himself will ever know anything regarding the plan or execution of it.

"The world will be kept in ignorance," Leopold is quoted as saying. He said both he and Loeb had told the truth to the examining scientists. "They have pictured me as cruel, inhuman, unfeeling," he said. "But Dickey" Loeb, evidently because of his guileless appearance, seems to have won the sympathy of the public."

"If the public only knew what I knew about Dickey" Loeb," the newspaper says Leopold as saying, "they would know that behind that mask of a smile there is a brain that is more subtle than mine and that after having done this thing I am before at which I shudder."

10,000 CHILDREN APPEAL TO DIXON FOR NEEDED HELP

Near East Relief Campaign Opened Here; Will End June 29.

10,000 CHILDREN
The emergency drive for Near East Relief in Dixon and vicinity is now on and will continue until June 29, under a committee headed by Mayor Frank D. Palmer, and of which A. P. Armstrong is treasurer and Sec. H. V. Hunt of the Y. M. C. A. is secretary. The committee includes all of the ministers of Dixon, prominent business men and heads of the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and other various fraternal and social organizations. The emergency drive is to raise funds for the orphans and destitute children in Greece, Armenia, Syria and Palestine.

Near East Relief is now caring for more than 60,000 children who are wholly dependent upon the generosity of America. Most of these children are under 12 years of age and if they can be clad, fed simply and whole-somely and can be educated in mind, body and soul there is some hope for their future.

Treasury Is Depleted

Near East Relief is now passing through an extremely trying financial period. The disaster at Smyrna, during which the organization spent over $4,000,000, in which our government estimates are that they saved half a million lives, and the evacuation of Anatolia have brought them to the present dilemma—a depleted treasury on one hand and suffering children on the other.

The present situation is that unless Near East Relief can secure assurance of a much larger income within the next thirty days, there is no alternative but to cable ordering the expulsion from the orphanages of at least 10,000 children on the first of July. This order, if given, will mean the shattering of life, hope and opportunity for most, and physical starvation and death for many of these children. They are as innocent and as much entitled to the necessities of life as the children of our own land and for this reason Dixon is willing to do her part in saving the lives of these little ones.

To Send Out Letters

Wednesday, 1,000 letters will be mailed to the people of Dixon and the committee in charge hopes that the response will be very liberal.

The Near East Relief was incorporated by a special act of Congress and is directly under the supervision of the government. It reports to Congress annually on the money received and expended. The operating cost is about 5 percent. It is non-sectarian, both Catholics and Protestants co-operating in the work.

The Evening Telegraph adds its appeal to that of the committee and will be glad to receive contributions for the work, publishing the list of donors at intervals.

Mail your check now to The Telegraph or to the Treasurer, A. P. Armstrong.

American Farm Bureau Federation Convention

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 17.—The American Farm Bureau Federation, will hold its annual convention this year in Chicago, December 8, 9 and 10, the executive committee voted today at its mid-year session.

The committee had before it plans for marketing dairy products co-operatively, endorsed by the marketing sub-committee. Approval by the executive committee was expected. This report advocates "a group of commodity sales organizations" and instead of "requiring a central authority, it provides workable local relationship to care for problems at the point that they arise."

Judges Demand Salaries.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., June 17.—Frank Comerford and John J. Kelly, demoted from the bench, whose names were written in on the ballots for superior and county court judges in Cook County, today asked the supreme court for writs of mandamus to compel the courts to pay their salaries.

Because there were no other candidates both Comerford and Kelly laid claim to election, but the election committee refused to canvass the vote. In filing the application for mandamus today, the two lawyers act on the assumption that they have been elected.

Couldn't Prove She Owned Dog; Lost Suit

Monmouth.—The celebrated "dog case" of Kirkwood, in which attorneys for Mrs. Clark, Kirkwood, asked damages of $50 which she claimed were due her after the town marshal had killed her pet dog, has been disposed of by the court, in holding that Mrs. Clark could prove no ownership. Witnesses testified that the dog was a common nuisance, and that when it was not bothering pedestrians it was chasing automobiles.

Golden Wedding Anniversary of Amboy Couple Celebrated; Friends Help Them

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT CONNER

Monday was a red letter day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Conner, of Amboy, for it was the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, and to help them properly celebrate the occasion a large concourse of friends, members of the Green River Farmers' Club, of which he is president, gathered at their home for an all-day social and picnic, during which the honored couple were recipients of many happy returns of the day and best wishes.

The golden wedding of this popular couple brought many happy recollections of the half century of their wedded life. Mrs. Conner was born Miss Corley A. Lawton, daughter of Casper and Emily Lawton. She was born in LeClaire, Iowa, Dec. 2, 1854, where she lived until she was twelve years of age, at which time the family moved to Vinton, Benton county, Iowa. She attended the public schools of that thriving town, where she graduated. At the age of nineteen she was married to Herbert G. Conner, eldest son of Harrison and Esther Conner.

CAME TO DIXON, END OF RAILROAD.

Mr. Conner was born in Luzerne county, Penna., Aug. 5, 1851, coming west with his parents when he was four years of age, Illinois being the family's destination. Arriving at Dixon they found they could go no further on the Northwestern railroad, as this city was as far as the line had been completed. Fortunately the superintendent of construction was a friend of Mr. Conner, and he had the family taken to Round Grove—their destination—in the cab of the locomotive, making them the first passengers to use the Northwestern line west of Dixon.

The Conner family lived in Whiteside county until near the end of the Civil War, and then moved west to Benton, Iowa, where Herbert assisted in the farm work until they moved to Cornell College and to the State University at Iowa City, where he took a law course. After being in a law office for a year the Arts appealed more to him than the law, and so after taking instruction from the best artists obtainable, he started to paint portraits, which has been his occupation since his marriage, June 16, 1874.

HAS DONE MANY FINE PAINTINGS.

His paintings have been hung in some of the best homes and public buildings in Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois; four of them being in the Circuit Court room of the Lee County Court House, and a number in homes in Dixon and in the Dixon Public Library.

However his endeavors have not been entirely confined to artistic work, since his residence in Amboy—the past seventeen years. Agriculture has also drawn his attention; he is now vice president of the Lee County Farm Bureau and is president of the Green River Farmers' Club, which organization had charge of the festivities at his home yesterday.

Hosts of friends throughout Lee County unite in extending to Mr. and Mrs. Conner their sincerest best wishes and congratulations on their happy anniversary.

COUPLE RECEIVE PURSE OF GOLD.

During the dinner, which was served on the spacious lawn at the Conner home, and in which over a hundred participated, Mr. and Mrs. Conner were presented with a purse of gold by their friends—there being a dollar for each year of their wedded life, and some to "go on."

Rev. Bailey of Amboy presided as toastmaster during the program, which consisted of musical numbers, short addresses and recitations. A feature of the program was invocation in song of divine blessing by Mrs. Conner's sister and a toast to the bride and groom by Mr. Conner's sister, Mrs. Peter Mong of Franklin Grove, was also greatly enjoyed.

So completely happy was the celebration that Mr. and Mrs. Conner have decided to have a "golden wedding" celebration every year.

NEW MINISTRY IN ITALY NOW BEING TALKED

Rome, June 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A "great concentration ministry" to include, besides Premier Mussolini, several former prime ministers, among them Giolitti and Orlando, now is talked of as a sequel to the events growing out of the kidnapping recently of the socialist deputy Matteotti, whose comrades have made his disappearance an issue with the government.

Premier Mussolini has issued a warning to the press to be careful about publishing rumors which not only serve to work up unwarranted excitement, but might also hamper the officials in their work of tracing the perpetrators of the crime.

Besides Signor Bertini, head of the Rome police, those who have thus far left high places in the fascist movement, both in and out of government positions in consequence of the crisis, include Signor Finzi, who withdrew his resignation as minister in the interior, was Premier Mussolini's most prominent adviser; Cesare Rossi, resigned head of the premier's press bureau; Signor Filippelli, editor of Corriere Italiano, who has been missing since the warrant for his arrest was issued.

Eagles in Convention.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., June 17.—Supreme Court Justice Floyd Thompson, Rock Island, delivered the memorial address this morning to two hundred delegates attending the three day state convention of Eagles in this city. Outside attendance is expected to reach one thousand by nightfall.

A short business session in the Eagles' home was followed by a sight-seeing trip over the city. Tonight the visitors will parade through the business district, followed by a carnival dance at the home.

McAdoo is Not Worried.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 17.—Whether the two-thirds nominating rule is replaced by the majority rule at the New York democratic convention does not worry William G. McAdoo, one of the contenders whose position on the subject is being widely discussed.

The candidate said so in most emphatic words here today, en route to the New York convolve.

"We can beat 'em anyway," so why should I worry?" McAdoo said. "We've got enough votes to back us up either way."

On any other features of his policy, platform or procedure, Mr. McAdoo was mum.

Mr. McAdoo's private car was added to a Baltimore & Ohio train which expected to reach New York about 2 p. m. Wednesday. One of his supporters noting the black band on Mr. McAdoo's left arm, inquired in an evident unthoughtful way "if he was wearing that for the republican party?"

"No," he replied, his face sobering from his broad smile, "that is for Mr. Wilson." Shortly, however, he beamed again and added, "But I might be wearing it for that party soon. With the platform the republicans adopted, I think though, they have already hung crepe on themselves."

The candidate appears fit for any eventuality. He said he was feeling "the greatest ever" and was anxious for the starting gun at New York.

Has Lee County Paid Bounty for Other Counties?

Investigation of Payment on Groundhogs Brings Suspicion.

The members of the county board of supervisors are giving much thought and attention to the action taken by them a year ago when it was decided to pay a bounty on groundhogs. County Clerk Fred G. Dimick notified the board at its regular June session last week that the volume of business which has been added to his office activities will require another deputy to handle this work alone. During the board session last week when every deputy in the county clerk's office was busy, the morning mail brought in 41 warrants for the payment of ground hog bounties. This, however, is not the largest number that has been received in a single mail and this time of the year appears to bring a larger number than at any other time.

Individual members of the board are somewhat undecided as to the advisability of continuing the bounty plan. In one township in the county it was reported last week that two small boys used two ground hog pelts, cutting them up in sizes of scalps and then took these to the town clerk where they attempted to realize 25 cents per scalp. Fortunately for the township, the town clerk discovered their plan and refused the payment of a bounty.

May Be Defrauded.

Others members of the board are of the opinion that Lee county is paying bounty on groundhogs killed in the surrounding counties. It was said that no county surrounding Lee is paying a bounty and in some sections, the pests are to be found in large numbers. There is no check other than an oath, to prevent the scalps being brought into Lee county and called in at 25 cents each. Whiteside county's board appropriated a sum of $750 to be used in the payment of ground hog bounties and this was soon exhausted. At the meeting of that board last week an additional $1,000 was appropriated to pay off outstanding warrants and the body voted to discontinue the practice. Other boards in surrounding counties have discussed the plan but have not put it in force.

County Clerk Dimick estimated that with the closing of last week that Lee county will have expended no less than $2,000 in the payment of ground hog bounties. The members of the board are divided in their views as to continuing or ceasing the plan. Some maintain that each individual farmer should exterminate the pests and abolish the bounty plan.

Liquor Cases on Trial.

The second panel of jurors reported in the county court this morning to hear cases scheduled on the June docket. The case of Paul Seis, charged with violation of the liquor laws was to be tried, but State's Attorney Mark C. Keller was granted leave to file an amended information and Judge Crabtree continued the case until June 26.

A jury was selected from the panel this afternoon at 1:30 to try Constable Greiner, better known as "Black Joe" for violation of the liquor laws.

SEEK ALLEGED OGLE THIEVES IN THIS CITY

Members Gang Were Thought to Have Been in Dixon.

Sheriff Sherd Dodson and Deputy George Danning of Oregon, were in Dixon yesterday with state warrants looking for two young men who have been implicated in what appears to be a wholesale ring of thieves that have operated extensively in Ogle county. While no arrests were made here yesterday, one member of the gang, Allen Camling, aged 23, a prosperous young farmer residing near Byron, was apprehended in Clinton, Iowa, Sunday afternoon and Sheriff Dodson went to the Iowa City and took him back to Oregon where he is being held. Walter Hagerman of Leaf River is also being held and the Ogle county authorities, who have been working on a series of farm thefts for months past, believe they have succeeded in breaking up a well-organized gang.

The Ogle county officials have made several trips to the Camling farm about eight miles northeast of Oregon and have uncovered hundreds of dollars worth of valuables, consisting chiefly of automobile accessories, oils and greases. Radio instruments are also to have formed a part of the loot.

JOHNSON EASY WINNER BY 10 TO 1 YESTERDAY

Minnesota's Jr. Senator Walked Away from Opponent.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—Republican nominees for U. S. senator and governor and the farmer-labor gubernatorial selection had not been definitely determined today when tabulation of returns from Monday's primary election was resumed here.

Magnus Johnson, Minnesota's junior senator, was renominated on the farmer-labor ticket in a walk-away, registering a vote that may run on a ten to one ratio.

Oscar Hallam of St. Paul had a lead of 8,000 votes over Congressman T. D. Schall in the republican senatorial contest.

For governor, Theodore Christanson of Dawson had a lead of 2,000 votes over C. M. Johnson of Rush City, on the republican ticket. Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin County attorney, was leading the field for the farmer-labor nomination.

In the congressional contests, Oscar Keller of St. Paul was nominated on the republican ticket; Congressman C. R. Davis was running behind A. H. Andresen in the third district and the returns from other contests were too meagre to definitely indicate the trend of the vote.

REPORTS WERE OVERDRAWN, IS SLEMP'S REPLY
Denies Serious Disagreement with Mr. William Butler.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cincinnati, O., June 17.—Published reports of any disagreement between him and William M. Butler, republican national committee chairman, were overdrawn, said C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge on his arrival here today from Washington.
"The published reports of any disagreement between me and Mr. Butler were considerably overdrawn," said Mr. Slemp. "The statement that I had gone to the President and threatened to resign was also much stronger than the facts of the case. I went to the Cleveland convention merely to observe how things were going on and to pick up what facts I could that I believed should be reported to the President. I noticed that there was some dissatisfaction on the part of some republican leaders that they were not being consulted by Mr. Butler in the running of the convention and it appeared to me as well as to them that he ought not to assume an individualistic policy in directing affairs, especially in the management of the coming presidential campaign. I believed that he ought to be surrounded by a group of advisors representative of the leaders of the party from the various sections of the country and I so reported to the President. However, the President himself had already decided that such a course should be pursued."

Sixty Countries in Communist Gathering
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Moscow, June 17.—Sixty countries including the United States, are represented in the fifth congress of the third international which opens today in the Grand Opera House here.
This year's convention of the organization founded by Lenin, Zinovieff and other bolsheviks in 1919 has brought a thousand representatives from every habitable part of the globe.
America's delegation comprises ten youthful communists.
The congress differs from the great national political conventions held in the United States, in that instead of state delegations, almost every branch of the human race is represented.
The sessions, which tomorrow will be transferred to the Kremlin, are expected to last three weeks. Besides discussion of the main object of the third international, which is to foster communism throughout the world, such questions as the international economic situation, a campaign against fascism and the emancipation of the minorities in colonial countries will be considered.

Moline Has Wheel Tax.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Moline, Ill., June 17.—Moline city council last night passed a mayor's veto for the first time in many years in order to adopt a wheel tax ordinance. The tax provides a city license fee for automobiles ranging from $3 for Fords to $100 for large trucks. Mayor C. W. Sandstrom, in vetoing the ordinance, declared motorists, like other citizens, want lower taxes. Public opinion, according to a poll taken by the Moline Motor Club, favored the tax, however, and it was adopted by a vote of 10-4.

Child Killed by Train.

Missionaries Named.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
DeKalb, Ill., June 17.—A sun-rise prayer service for five departing missionaries who were commissioned yesterday, marked the opening of the final days session of the Lutheran Augustana Synod meeting here in 65th annual convention.
A special committee appointed to prepare an anti-war resolution was ready to report to the convention body. The committee's report was said to contain a strong denunciation of war as contrary to the spirit of christianity and to demand that the christian church take a firm stand in opposition to future conflicts.
The World War, the resolutions are said to declare, accomplished no good results, but only served to bring suffering and misery upon mankind.

"50-50" for Democratic Men and Women
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 17.—At least 464 women will attend the democratic national convention as delegates or as alternates.
Of this number it was made known at the democratic national committee headquarters here today 143 will sit as delegates-at-large, 34 as district delegates, 78 as alternates-at-large and 209 as district alternates.
The democratic national convention has had "50-50" representation for men and women since 1920.

Funeral Services of Blast Victims Today

San Pedro, Calif., June 17.—Arrangements are complete for the funeral services at Treana Field here today at which civilians will join with the 48 men who died Thursday in the gun turret explosion aboard the battleship Mississippi.
Escorted by armed sailors and police, more than forty bodies were taken late yesterday to the temporary chapel where the memorial services will be conducted with full naval honors.
Funeral rites for Lieut. Thomas E. Zellars, one of the victims of the disaster, were conducted yesterday at Long Beach.

DODDS FAMILY TO MEET SOON AT SPRINGFIELD
Preparation of History of Family to Be Their Aim.
Springfield.—More than 1000 descendants of Margaret Dodds, a contemporary of Washington and Cornwallis, are expected to meet at Washington Park here Aug. 20, to write a family history and to locate missing branches of the family. Members of the committee in charge of the reunion estimate that several thousand descendants of Margaret Dodds are scattered over the middle west, and in order to obtain a complete family history, they have invited every person in the United States, remotely connected with the family, to join in the reunion.
Margaret Dodds, whose maiden name was Craig, was born in South Carolina in 1749. She was married three times and had six sons and one daughter, the latter dying in infancy. She was intimately connected with many stirring events of the Revolution and remembered having seen both Washington and Cornwallis at the head of their respective armies. Her second husband was captured by the British and died in a military prison.
After the war Mrs. Dodds, with her six sons, moved to Tennessee, but later moved to Kentucky. Her sons scattered, as they were married and two of them came to Sangamon county. Mrs. Dodds lived with them for several years before her death, and her body lies in the Cumberland Presbyterian cemetery. The inscription on her tombstone is the oldest in the county.
John Craig Dodds, one of her sons, who lived in Kentucky, had nine children; Joseph Dodds, who came to Illinois, had eleven children; Gilbert Dodds, who also came to Illinois had 12 children and Samuel Watson, a son by Mrs. Dodds' first marriage had one son. Little is known of Thomas and Henry Dodds who moved to Missouri and lost connection with the rest of the family.
The committee in charge of the reunion expects visitors from Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Illinois to attend the gathering.
The committee in charge of the reunion is composed of Leah Drennan, A. Ray Drennan and William Clarence Dodds, all great great grandchildren of Mrs. Dodds and Frederick Clinton Dodds, a great grandson.

Veterans of Wabash to Hold Reunion, June 26th
Decatur, Ill.—More than 1,000 veterans, who have served more years with the Wabash railroad, will gather here June 26 for an all day picnic and reunion in Nelson park, on the shore of Lake Decatur. The reunion, which will be the first annual gathering of the Wabash Veterans association is to be given over entirely to recreation and no speeches are on the program. The business session in the morning will last just long enough to elect officers. President J. W. Knowlton, of Decatur, will call the meeting to order.
The association was organized last year at a veterans picnic. All employees of the railroad who have been in service more than 20 years were invited. The object of the association, according to Eugene Head, of Decatur, secretary of the association, is to perpetuate and strengthen the friendships formed through years of past association by affording an opportunity for an annual reunion for all veterans who were in the employ of the road in 1893, or before.

Nelson Woman Victim of Friends' Surprise
Nelson.—Mrs. G. H. Bartholomew was surprised by 25 of Nelson ladies the other evening. She received a number of valuable presents for her birthday. Games and dancing were enjoyed and at a late hour a delightful supper was served. Her friends departed wishing her many happy returns of the day.
Harry Cook of Rock Springs, Wyo., who has been visiting at the G. W. Bartholomew home on his vacation, has returned to his home and resumed his duties as assistant superintendent of the Union Pacific.
Mrs. Fred Onken and two children of South Pekin are visiting at the George and Gus Onken homes.
Mrs. Priscilla Smith and son Lowell are visiting in South Pekin for a few days.
Michael Callahan and wife and Mrs. G. W. Bartholomew and son Lloyd motored to Sterling Friday.
Mrs. S. P. Boyer of Sterling visited at the Charles Bohlen home Wednesday.
The folks of Nelson are greatly pleased with the wonderful flower garden of peonies and oriental poppies at the G. W. Bartholomew home.
Mr. and Mrs. Earle Stitzel and family and Ethel Taylor are enjoying their vacation at Lawrence, Kan.
The sidewalks at Nelson are coming right along. Nelson will be a town before we know it.

Marriage of Month Ago is Announced
Harmon, Ill., June 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Chervat have taken up their residence on Main street in the W. H. Kugler house. Mr. and Mrs. Chervat took their many friends by surprise recently, when they announced that their marriage had taken place nearly a month ago in Chicago. Mrs. Chervat before her marriage was Miss Pearl Hicks, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hicks, who have resided on farms near Harmon for the last 14 years. Mrs. Chervat finished the course at the Harmon High school in 1923, and since that time has been at home with her parents.
The bride has a sunny disposition and has a large circle of friends. Mr. Chervat is one of the many men who served Uncle Sam so faithfully overseas, and is a young man worthy of his bride. He is at present employed with the Farmer's Elevator Co. The best wishes of the community follow this happy couple in their matrimonial venture.

REPORTS WERE OVERDRAWN, IS SLEMP'S REPLY
Denies Serious Disagreement with Mr. William Butler.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cincinnati, O., June 17.—Published reports of any disagreement between him and William M. Butler, republican national committee chairman, were overdrawn, said C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge on his arrival here today from Washington.
"The published reports of any disagreement between me and Mr. Butler were considerably overdrawn," said Mr. Slemp. "The statement that I had gone to the President and threatened to resign was also much stronger than the facts of the case. I went to the Cleveland convention merely to observe how things were going on and to pick up what facts I could that I believed should be reported to the President. I noticed that there was some dissatisfaction on the part of some republican leaders that they were not being consulted by Mr. Butler in the running of the convention and it appeared to me as well as to them that he ought not to assume an individualistic policy in directing affairs, especially in the management of the coming presidential campaign. I believed that he ought to be surrounded by a group of advisors representative of the leaders of the party from the various sections of the country and I so reported to the President. However, the President himself had already decided that such a course should be pursued."

Sixty Countries in Communist Gathering
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Moscow, June 17.—Sixty countries including the United States, are represented in the fifth congress of the third international which opens today in the Grand Opera House here.
This year's convention of the organization founded by Lenin, Zinovieff and other bolsheviks in 1919 has brought a thousand representatives from every habitable part of the globe.
America's delegation comprises ten youthful communists.
The congress differs from the great national political conventions held in the United States, in that instead of state delegations, almost every branch of the human race is represented.
The sessions, which tomorrow will be transferred to the Kremlin, are expected to last three weeks. Besides discussion of the main object of the third international, which is to foster communism throughout the world, such questions as the international economic situation, a campaign against fascism and the emancipation of the minorities in colonial countries will be considered.

SOME DIAMONDS WORTHLESS.

Half of the diamonds found in Kimberley and other famous mines are absolutely without value as jewels. This surprising information comes from Whitlock, mineral expert of American Museum of Natural History.

Out of every 100 diamonds mined from the blue clay, 50 are worthless, 25 are second-grade or "off color" stones with brown or yellow or violet tinge, and only 25 are clear and without some faint coloring.

One diamond in four is a top-notch. And even among these, a superb stone like the Kohinoor or Great Mogul is found rarely—a matter of generations, even centuries.

Diamonds are a lot like men. It takes millions of plodders to produce one individual who is truly great. Living on earth today are 1700 million people. How many of them will be remembered 15,000 years from now? Not more than a dozen. Even our present civilization may be almost entirely forgotten by then.

The cutting of diamonds is a tremendous factor in the ultimate price, says Whitlock. The tools used in this cutting are practically the same as they were in 1475 when Louis de Bequem was the master cutter. This is because the diamond cutter, like a violinist, has to rely mainly on delicacy of touch rather than mechanical devices.

The preparation of a rough diamond, converting it into a finished gem ready for market, is a slow and painstaking process. Even a diamond requires hard work before it becomes a "success." Its brilliance comes only after long polishing.

Young men, impatient because they are not succeeding faster, will find consolation and wisdom by pondering the diamond.

We said that half the diamonds that come from the mines are worthless. That is hardly correct. True, they can never be made into salable gems. But they serve a useful purpose. Without their help in cutting and grinding—"diamond cut diamond"—the stones of the first water could not be prepared for market.

Again we observe the diamond's similarity to man. All are useful, though it may not be their lot to sparkle and shine.

Life is a lot like a theater. All cannot be star actors. Some must play minor roles, some serve as stagehands behind the scenes. But that does not lessen their importance. Without them, the stars couldn't perform.

IT IS NOT NECESSARY—

To swear if you are telling the truth.
To stall if you have nothing to conceal.
To worry if you have done your best.
To avoid the sheriff if you obey the law.
To bluff if you can deliver the goods.
To dread a rainy day if you have learned to save.

—By the Rev. Roy L. Smith.

A time may come when political candidates want adjusted compensation for the time they've spent to be elected.

It shouldn't be difficult to break up any incipient McAdoo stampede. "Oil!" is such an easy word to holler.

Under the blessings of civilization and education, man has become reconciled to almost everything except man.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION.

The immigration law does not really slam the door in Japan's face as hard as some of the comments on the subject have seemed to imply. In his statement made when he signed the bill, President Coolidge took pains to explain, perhaps for the special benefit of Japanese jingoists:

"It should be noted that bill exempts from the exclusion provision government officials, those coming to the country as tourists temporarily for business or pleasure, those in transit, season, those already resident here, and returning from temporary absences, professors, ministers of religion, students, and those who enter solely to carry on trade in pursuance of existing treaty provisions."

This is fairly broad. It does not keep out any class that has been admitted under the "gentlemen's agreement." It bars only the lower-class Japanese who were already barred under that agreement, merely making their exclusion more definite and emphatic. It is a change not of matter but of manner.

Thousands of Americans have agreed that it may be unwise or unfortunate, certainly carrying the appearance of discourtesy, to do the thing in this particular manner. Perhaps it is. Yet is possible that the Japanese themselves, after a little, will realize that they have not really lost any privileges they possessed, and that the American people, while apparently harsh, do not really feel any ill will toward them.

MUSICAL PROGRESS.

Paderewski should be a good judge of the musical status of any nation. In an interview in Paris, since he left America, he speaks of musical progress in this country in a way that should please every good American.

"I have had long experience of America," he says, "and when I contrast my first experiences with my more recent, I am struck with the quickness with which musical education has spread throughout the United States. Where there were hundreds twenty years ago who would go to listen to classical music, there are now many thousands, men and women, who both understand and appreciate."

It goes farther than mere passing appreciation, says the great pianist. He makes no prophecies of an outburst of musical genius here, but says that "in execution Americans are going very far ahead, and very quickly."

This testimony is the more assuring because Paderewski is not obliged, in Paris, to say fine things about America. Any observing person is likely to corroborate his views. The advance in musical education and enjoyment in this country in the last twenty years is amazing, and it is more rapid today than ever before.

Nothing makes a man see things in a different light like a June moon.

It takes an optimist to be tickled at what a hard time he is having.

They could see a tiny Japanese maiden.

"Tira loo, tira loo, tira loo!" called Johnny Jump Up softly. "Wake up, Nancy and Nick, and come and get your magic shoes. We are going on another adventure."

"Where to?" asked Nick excitedly, hopping out of bed and starting to put on his clothes.

"You'll find out, you'll find out," sang Johnny Jump Up, dancing about on the window-sill in the moonlight.

Nancy was dressed first, and put on the tiny shoes the fairy handed to her. But Nick was only a second behind her, so eager was he to be off.

And, oh, how tiny they became the instant the magic shoes touched their feet. So little that a lightning bug passing by called out, "Good evening, beetles, how did you get away up here?"

One, two, three, four, five! In just as long a time as it takes to count that many, they were down the wall and standing in the magic garden where the stiff yellow daffodils stood like fairy lamp-posts, and the blue bells went tinkling.

"Come with me," cried Johnny Jump Up, and bouncing over to a cherry tree covered with blossoms, he began to climb toward the branches.

Up went the Twins after him.

And there by the light of the moon they could see a tiny Japanese maiden on no bigger than a humming bird.

She had on a little straight dress of bright silk, embroidered in colored flowers, and a wide sash that tied in a big bow behind. Her black hair was piled up high on her head and stuck full of little fans and she carried a paper parasol.

"Oh, are you a fairy?" cried Nancy.

"Yes," nodded the tiny maiden, "a Japanese fairy from far Japan. It is a lovely place on the other side of the world and that is where Johnny Jump Up is going to take you tonight. I brought three tickets for you."

"All rightie, if you say so," said Johnny Jump Up, turning a somersault. "Have you seen the titmouse anywhere? We can't go unless he takes us."

"Oh, I'm here," called a sleepy voice. "I've been waiting ever since the sun went down. Every other self-respecting bird was in bed hours ago. All I got was forty winks and I never can get rested under fifty."

"You can sleep when you get back, lazybones," chirped Johnny Jump Up merrily. "Hop on, Nancy! Hop on, Nick!" And giving a little jump, the fairy man hopped on, too.

Away flew the titmouse and they all waved goodby to the little Japanese fairy in the cherry tree.

After crossing a very wide ocean, they came to Japan. The sun was shining because, being on the other side of the world, it was day.

"Oh, Japan's all pink!" cried Nancy, looking down from her place on the bird's back.

"It is now, for their cherry blossoms are out, and they are pink instead of white, as ours are," said the fairy.

Just then the titmouse yawned. "I think we'd better be going home," he said. "I want my other ten winks of sleep."

VAILE AND O'MALLEY

DIRECTORS FOR BIG PAGEANT TO COME THIS WEEK

American Legion Making
Final Plans for Great
Production.

The pageant of Abraham Lincoln is rapidly rounding into form and when the first of the directors who will have charge of staging this stupendous production arrives in Dixon the complete cast will have been assigned and ready for rehearsal.

The work of setting out the advertising program commenced Monday upon the arrival of the company man, Robert Duff, who has already contracted for all the available billboard space within a radius of fifty miles of Dixon. This billing, which is real circus advertising in size, will tell every one who can read that Dixon is to be the center of attraction for northern Illinois for the four nights of July 9 to 12.

Florence Earle Wilchman, who will direct the preliminary rehearsals of the Pageant, will arrive in Dixon tomorrow and be prepared to commence work with the groups of dancers, wedding guests, slaves, etc., on Thursday. There is still a chance for some more who would like to take a part in this performance to be assigned. The committee can use several boys in the army scenes and any one who wishes to enlist may do so by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The Chamber of Commerce was represented by Sec. Harold Woodlief and have offered their services and appointed a committee to act with the Legion in the production of the Pageant.

The Board of Education offered the high school athletic grounds on the north side for this production and this offer was accepted by the Legion and a vote of thanks extended to the board for their kindness.

Mr. Woodlief reported that, having attended a meeting of the United Commercial Travelers, this organization unanimously offered to carry the publicity work throughout all of the territory covered by the Pageant.

Y. M. C. A. Band to Play
The Y. M. C. A. band has offered its services, which were accepted with thanks, and Commander Snyder also reported that the drum corps of the Sterling Post American Legion would take part in the parade.

The casting committee reported that nearly one-half of those selected to take part have signed their cards and that this work would be completed before the arrival of the first director, Dr. C. A. Robbins, speaking for the Odd Fellows, offered to organize a group of characters from that lodge to take part in the Pageant and the full co-operation of all Odd Fellows in any way that the committee might see fit to use them.

This spirit of co-operation by all organizations in Dixon will be the last touch that is needed to assure a production by which all future Pageants and shows in Dixon will be compared.

New French President

Says Germany Must Pay

Paris, June 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Gaston Doumergue, the new French president, in his first message to parliament today declared Germany before the Dawes report was put into effect, must prove her good faith, and that, he insisted, must come from facts and not from mere engagements without previous assurance of fulfillment.

Radiographs

RADIO RAPIDLY BECOMING REAL OUT-DOOR SPORT

Static Overcome By a Loop
Antenna, Radio Engineers Claim.

The possibilities of radio as an outdoor sport are at last being realized. The rapid growth of the new art brought with it some mistakes. The biggest mistake was to let the idea get into the public mind that radio couldn't be used in summer on account of static.

This, of course, is not true. If it were so, the broadcasting stations would shut down. But you don't see any of them doing so! If it were true, people wouldn't go on building sets of the reflex type at the rate they are.

The fact is that the conquest of static by use of the loop antenna, the improvement of broadcasting, and the advent of portable sets which are really portable have now made it possible to enjoy radio in the good old summer time as much as at other times of the year.

Radio on Vacation
"What is vacation without a radio?" has every prospect of becoming a slogan of nation-wide truth and application.

The loop antenna, with its practical freedom from static, is the biggest factor in year-around radio. With the use of a circuit which operates on a loop and with a loud speaker, it is now possible to enjoy broadcasting from the distant as well as nearby stations throughout the year.

The loop has the peculiar directional effect which receives the stations at which it points and excludes that which comes at right angles to it. Then, too, the new low-loss condenser makes tuning so sharp that interference of all kind is reduced to a minimum. There are several good low-loss condensers on the market at reasonable prices.

Set It Up Anywhere
Such a set can be used in any room of the house or camp. It can be set up on an automobile at the road side; it can be carried on a picnic or aboard a boat or canoe. There is no aerial to be put up or ground connection to be made. It is as portable as a suit case.

An additional advantage of this type of set is that it can be built by anybody. Plain, understandable diagrams make its construction easy. The results are even more satisfactory than with ready-made sets. Furthermore the vacationist will get as much fun out of building the set himself and making the kind of cabinet that best suits his fancy, as he will using it afterwards. And when he begins to get DX on the set he built himself he will get as much of a thrill as he would in catching a big fish instead of buying it.

Summertime, too, is a good time to revamp an old set and have it ready for the busy days of fall when there is not so much time to experiment.

In a word, the year-around use of radio now has a sound basis. The loop and the use of low-loss condensers in sets like the reflex make good results certain. Broadcasting stations in summer are increasing their sending power. When the summer days are longest, making it harder to broadcast over great distances, several of the more important stations have interconnected systems, as for example, WEAF at New York and WCAP at Washington.

The attractions which radio will have to offer this summer will be better than ever. Not only will the num-

"Uncle Billy" Gray Feels

W. J. (Uncle Billy) Gray, of Arkansas City, Kan., is another man of wide popularity to declare himself squarely on the side of Tanlac. "Uncle Billy" has lived in Arkansas City more than half a century and has an unbroken record of 47 years as constable, which makes him the oldest peace officer in point of service in the state.

"I feel that I would be dodging my duty to suffering humanity," said "Uncle Billy," "if I did not let it be known what a wonderful medicine I have found in Tanlac. I had been taking everything and getting nowhere, but my very first bottle of Tanlac had me well on the road to good health."

"Two years of stomach and intestinal troubles had me so weak and exhausted that I could hardly move about. In fact, I was all out of fix, suffering day and night, and felt that I was about done for."

"Tanlac arrested my troubles, halted my downward course and then my energy and strength returned like a tidal wave, so to speak. Since then, two years ago now, the occasional use of Tanlac has kept me in good trim."

TYPHOID FEVER HELD ACCIDENT BY HIGH COURT

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., June 16.—The state supreme court today denied a petition for rehearing in the case of Anna Christ vs. the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company. William Christ, a Chicago & Alton Railway employee died two years ago from typhoid fever. A coroner's jury declared his death accidental and directed an insurance payment of $1,300 to be paid the widow, on a "special accident" insurance policy held by Christ.

Whether death from disease accidentally contracted, can be classed as an "accidental death," is the question raised in this case. Attorneys for the company argued that if a previous decision of the court, holding that such death was accidental, is allowed to stand approximately 80 percent of the policies now written by casualty companies will become ordinary life insurance policies.

William H. Christ, an employee of the Chicago & Alton railroad, drank contaminated water for the week ended February 3, 1920, and was fatally stricken with typhoid fever. A jury declared the death "accidental" and directed the insurance company to pay his widow $1,130 on his "special accident insurance policy." The third district appellate court at Springfield upheld the judgment as did also the supreme court on the first hearing.

Attorneys for the defense maintain that the previous decisions in the case are revolutionary, and that such an interpretation of "special accident policies" does violence to the intent and to the language of the contract.

"Bodily injury," they said, "as used in the contract could not be construed to mean the deterioration of the cells of the body caused by sickness. 'Bodily injury' as used in the contract, clearly means an injury to the body at the time of the accident; the 'bodily injury' must be the moving cause and not the result of a sickness."

FOUR HOLSTEINS AT HILL DEN IN GREAT RECORDS

Natl. Assn. Records
Production of Dixon
Man's Purebreds.

Excellent production records were made recently in the herd of H. W. Hey, of Hill Den Farm by four of his pure bred Holstein cows, according to an official announcement made by the advanced registry department of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

At the age of five years and five months Johanna Segis Marjorie produced 24691.6 pounds milk containing 810.81 pounds butterfat equal to 1013.51 pounds butter in 365 days.

Lily Cornucopia of Pine View produced, at the age of seven years and ten months, 22641.9 pounds milk containing 750.70 pounds butterfat equal to 945.85 pounds butter in 365 days.

Greenlawn Marie Changeling at the age of four years and five months produced 20,569.4 pounds milk containing 668.34 pounds butterfat equal to 860.42 pounds butter in 365 days.

Sadie Concordia Posch at the age of three years and one month produced 18515. pounds milk containing 657.07 pounds butterfat equal to 821.33 pounds butter in 365 days.

A total of 109,569 animals have been admitted to the advanced registry of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Of this number 7,036 were bulls. During the past testing year, 5,653 cows have been entered.

Finds Kellogg's Bran "Easy way to avoid constipation" after suffering for years

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It can lead to many others. Twenty years' suffering with constipation undermined this man's health. Kellogg's Bran restored it—as it has done for thousands. This is what he says:

"Gentlemen: After eating Kellogg's Bran twice a day for one month I find it not only an 'Easy Way to Avoid Constipation,' but an easy and most pleasant way to cure it. I have been troubled with constipation . . . for more than twenty years . . . after adopting the milk and bran diet I find my stomach greatly improved, and find it a specific for constipation."

"I deem it only justice that you should know what your product has done for me, and what it is capable of doing for others."

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion.

The Golf Moccasin

When Alexander Pope jeered, "Lo! the poor Indian whose untutor'd mind sees God in clouds or hears Him in the wind," it was a disparagement of the first American to which we later Americans cannot subscribe. The romance and pathos which hover around this vanishing race enshrine it in our hearts. There is one ineffaceable footprint that the noble redskin has left upon the sands of time and that is the moccasin. Originally, it was cut in one piece of soft deerskin with a flexible sole, the upper being brilliantly beaded in tribe colors. Pilgrim trappers and traders improved it somewhat, but no ingenuity of civilized man has appreciably changed the splendid moccasin of the North American Indian.

Golf, which ultimately absorbs all fashions, has taken the moccasin type of shoe for its own. The upper, as illustrated here, is made of very pliable elkskin or soft-tanned cowhide. The sole and raised or spring heel, as preferred, are grooved rubber or the new English non-slip crepe rubber which gives firm stance. To be sure, this is only one of many new styles for "Ye Guld Auld Game" each of which is just as proper as its fellow. In selecting shoes for the sports individual comfort, not general fashion, should be borne in mind. Please, be advised that what is shown and described here is merely meant as a guide to what is new and practical, not as a magisterial decree to be followed inflexibly.

The old stager of a golfer knows that comfort begins at the foot. Therefore, he does not save steps to find out exactly which type of shoe is best suited to his needs. The improvement in the design and finish of golf shoes has been so great within the last five years that calks, spikes, studs, hobnails and other attachments to the soles have become almost unnecessary. The ridged or grooved or so-called "washboard" sole effectively prevents slipping and eliminates one of the greatest handicaps. Smoked and tan elk leather are excellent for golf shoes. Latterly, a marked tendency is noticeable again to wear high-cut spats or gaiters with one's golf shoes. The 7-button canvas gaiter, worn with thick-soled brogues, is a particular favorite. This lends a smart finish to the knickers and gives protection almost up to the knee.

HERE'S THE LATEST-COD LIVER OIL IN TASTELESS TABLETS

Greatest Flesh Builder For Skinny, Weak, Run-Down People—Full of Vitamines.

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest when the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil is brought out.

Medical science progresses rapidly, and now you can get at your druggist's real, genuine cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Even the run-down and skinny grown-ups, who ought to take cod liver oil, because it really is the great, healthy vitamin food and builder of healthy flesh in the world, will feel extremely joyful when they read this welcome news.

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver oil in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh-producing tablets just as easy as a bottle of magnesia.

Thin, run-down, anemic men, women and children, who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, and if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days just get your money back.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor—another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child, aged nine twelve pounds in seven months, and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. Rowland's Pharmacy or any good druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only sixty cents for 60 tablets.

*Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets and beware of imitations.

French Government in its First Declaration

Paris, June 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The declaration of Premier Herriot's cabinet, submitted to parliament today, affirms that the Ruhr will not be evacuated until the guarantee provided in the Dawes report have been set up.

Other features of the declaration include a pronouncement for the restoration of normal relations with Russia.

The declaration calls for prompt ratification of the remaining treaties signed at the Washington armament conference and of the international labor convention and the conclusion of peace with Turkey. The ministry stands for the disarmament of Germany by the allies and as soon as possible by the League of Nations. It would find a solution of the problem of France's security through guarantee pacts under control of the League of Nations.

"COMFORTS" IN ENGLAND

Balloon tires are called "comfort tires" in England. But they're not widely used. Only some of the latest cars have adopted them, and then only as optional equipment.

Simple Home Treat- ment for Swollen Veins

If you or any relative or friend worried because of varicose veins, hemorrhoids, the best advice that any in this world can give is to get a prescription that many physicians now prescribing.

Ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they're growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. Emerald Oil, powerful, yet harmless germicide, results are guaranteed.—Adv.

CITY OF DIXON—OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

TO THE PEOPLE OF DIXON:

June 12, 1914.

Horace F. Ortt Post No. 540, Veterans of Foreign Wars has secured for exhibition purposes in this city the United States War Department official motion pictures, "POWDER RIVER," made by the United States Signal Corps in France.

These pictures show America's part in the World War and especially show the four great battles, Cantigny, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne Forest, depicting the boys from this district and Illinois, in action, in whose record "over there" all citizens of our city take the greatest pride.

The Dixon Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has arranged to show these pictures at the Family Theatre for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, June 18th and 19th, and in view of the fact that "POWDER RIVER" is historical, educational and patriotic and will appear to every true American, and also because the proceeds go to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Boy Scouts fund, I trust that every citizen will co-operate with the local boys and attend the showing of these pictures.

FRANK D. PALMER, Mayor, City of Dixon.

Damage in So. Dakota Storm is Over Million; 20 Are Reported Dead

Sioux Falls, S. Dak., June 17.—With 20 reported dead and damage at more than a million dollars, South Dakota set to work today to reestablish communication with the storm swept area.

Eleven of the deaths were unverified while estimates of property damage varied from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Wessington Springs is believed to have suffered most from the tornado which left hardly a store in the business district standing.

Hundreds of head of stock dead, destruction of crops and real property and broken down telephone and telegraph wires were included in the storm's toll.

Echo of New Year's Party Will Be Heard

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Calif., June 17.—A battery of sideliights on the New Year's night party at which Courtland S. Dines, Denver oil operator, was shot and seriously wounded by Horace Greer, then chauffeur to Mabel Normand, film actress, was ready to be turned on before a jury of ten women and two men at today's session of Greer's trial on a charge of attempting to murder Dines.

Greer will seek acquittal on the ground of self defense according to his counsel. Dines exhibited an eagerness to testify against the chauffeur. Miss Normand and Edna Purviance, the motion picture actresses who were in Dines' apartment when he was shot, testified at yesterday's session.

District Council of V. F. W. Will Be Formed

The regular meeting of Horace F. Orrt post, No. 540, V. F. W. will be held this evening. Tomorrow evening a district council will be held in Dixon with delegates attending from Rockford, Sterling and Freeport who with Dixon will form a council. Six new posts are being organized in northern Illinois and the purpose of the council is to help and promote comradeship in these posts. The Auxiliary of the local post will go to Sterling Monday evening where they will attend a card party and dance given by Burt E. Brown Post No. 326.

Socialist's Wife Seeks and Finds Rest in Death

New York, June 16.—Mrs. Margaret Martin, 22, secretary to Morris Hillquist, socialist leader, divorced and tired of life, attired herself in her prettiest lounging robe before she sought rest in death in her Greenwich Village apartment last night.

After reading some passages from a bible, she seated herself in an easy chair and turned on the gas. Police broke down her door four hours later and found the body.

Inquiry of Explosion Ends this Afternoon

By Associated Press Leased Wire
San Pedro, Calif., June 17.—Sessions of the state court of inquiry investigating the turret explosion which killed 45 men aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi last Thursday, will close this afternoon aboard the hospital ship Relief where 12 enlisted men, injured in the blast, will be asked to tell their stories of the tragedy.

Golfers to Princeton.

Dixon Country Club golfers are scheduled to play a match game with the Bureau County Country Club at Princeton on Thursday afternoon of this week. Ladies are invited to accompany the men players to Princeton and all those intending to go are asked to leave word at the golf shop on the grounds or notify E. B. Raymond.

Rockford Park District is Heir to an Estate

Rockford, —Rockford Park district is the ultimate beneficiary of the bulk of the $30,000 estate of the late Thomas G. Levings, veteran township highway commissioner and donor of Thomas G. Levings park to Rockford.

A fund of $7,000 will go toward the improvement of Levings park should Mrs. Levings die within three years. Otherwise, at her demise, the entire estate will be liquidated and the proceeds turned over to the park district.

Dixon Engineers With Visiting Road Experts

O. E. Goeke, supervising engineer in charge of the state department of highways office in this city, and Lester Street, a member of the engineering force in the Dixon office, have returned home from an extended motor trip throughout the state. The local engineers were members of the party escorting the Pan-American Highway commission through Illinois on a road inspection tour. The trip was made by automobile and 38 engineers were in the party.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON, CONTINUED

I have been wracking my brain, Syd ever since I got that letter, to determine who the nice lady was who felt called upon to tell Paula the glad news.

It could not have been Ruth Ellington. She does not know Paula well enough, and that dear Precilla Braden is off the map as far as the Prescotts are concerned.

Don't think me conceited and egotistical, but I have been wondering if there isn't a little personal interest in Paula's letter. I hear you say "don't be a damn fool, Jack."

But isn't it a scream, that a man's wife should play rival in the affections of his former sweetheart and beat him out at the game. Paula has invested Leslie with a halo since her visit here.

Of course you know she came back fully determined to kick up a fuss, but Leslie, bless her heart, disarmed her with kindness. Paula expected that Leslie would be quite as upstage as the rest of the society women about this town and would treat her with righteous contempt, but when Leslie, although she said nothing, made no denials or admissions, made Paula understood that she knew she was the mother of little Jack, the French girl was flabbergasted.

Of course Paula had no way of knowing that at that time Leslie thought you were the father of Jack, and she thought Leslie's forgiveness was divine. Especially was she grateful for being left alone with the child for a little while.

Now what am I going to do? It is a strange thing, Syd, that a woman can never drop anything completely. She always wants to keep bringing it up and parading it whether it is a joy or a sorrow, a success or a disgrace. On the other hand, a man, no matter what his remorse or other emotions may be, will content himself in saying "That's that" and burying it decently. Paula will probably keep cases on me the rest of my natural life.

Leslie is going to have some kind of a jamboree to celebrate our third anniversary. She writes me that someone has said that if you safely weather that date on the calendar of married life, you can job along thereafter with more or less surety of being able to stand the bonds of double harness.

Of course you are coming over for the celebration. Don't forget that you were the best man at the start of this marital marathon, and you ought to be here to cheer us as we pass the first lap.

I didn't like the tone of your letter when you spoke of Sally Atherton. When you see her you will realize what a pal she can be to a man, although I don't think she would ever be a success as a wife. I told you, however, in my last that I hoped she would bowl you over and I think that she could if she'd try. I have come to the conclusion that that woman could do most anything. If she doesn't do it it is because she doesn't want to.

I wonder if I wrote you that mother is here. Under the tutelage of a nurse and companion I hired for her? She has grown quite human. Being humanized, she cannot help liking Leslie, who, between you and me, Syd, is the nearest an angel of all the women I have ever known. If she were more angelic she couldn't live with such a sinner as Your friend JACK. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

"Berry, the Wizard," Staging a Comeback

Nine years ago, A. S. Berry went to Amboy and opened a store, mostly on wind, but built up the largest store in Lee County. He reached the pinnacle of success; then bang—he went crash, falling to the bottom like a thousand of brick and tasting the bitter with the sweet.

Now he's starting to climb again, and tomorrow his sale in Amboy will show what can be done. Dry goods, silks, ready-to-wear, shoes for the family, etc., at regular U. S. Army prices.

Come down and see Berry the Wizard, and you'll go home with a bundle. This is three sales in one, but the only original Berry, the man whom a preacher in his pulpit said was a benefactor.

He is now in the basement of the Briggs' building, where he first started.

LEE CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

LEE COUNTY FARMERS USE MCLEAN COUNTY SYSTEM HOG GROWING

During the last two or three years, Many Lee County farmers have adopted what is known as the McLean County system of hog management. The system briefly is as follows:

Brood sows to farrow are put in pens thoroughly cleaned, and if the sows are dirty or muddy they are thoroughly washed to remove all dirt. The pigs are farrowed in clean pens and have no chance to pick up the microscopic worm eggs which are practically always present in old hog lots and hog pens. In about 10 days or two weeks the sows and pigs are moved to clean pasture and are kept there until the shoats weigh about 100 pounds, when they may be moved back to fatten. This makes use of clover and pasture lands to the best advantage. It helps to make use of a clover rotation since a new field is needed each year for the hogs in order to avoid contamination with worm eggs.

Farmers Practice System

During the last five years the whole system has been worked out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and a number of McLean County farmers, hence the name. The Lee County Farm Bureau during the moving pictures in every community last three years, has shown excellent results following this plan. Swartz and Miller of Nelson Township followed very much this plan, although their system does not entirely eliminate the use of the old hog lots. E. R. Buck of China Township has followed most of the plan and had excellent results in 1923.

Bulletins and information on the McLean County system of hog management may be secured through the Lee County Farm Bureau at Amboy.

Lowden to Address Rotarian Convention

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Toronto, Ont., June 17.—To promote understanding, good will and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men 10,000 Rotarians are gathered here from all sections of the civilized world for the 15th annual convention of Rotary International at Exposition Park.

This is the first convention of Rotary International that has ever been held in Canada and the second ever held outside the United States—the Rotarians having met in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1921.

The convention will continue in session four days and will end with the election of officers on Friday. Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will be one of the chief speakers. Reports will be made on the progress of the work of developing codes of ethical practices in businesses and professions through the influence of Rotarian members of national, state and provincial trade and professional associations. Work among boys and crippled children and problems of Rotary club administration will be discussed.

A president and eight directors will be elected, a new administration coming in to Rotary every year. The leading candidates for president are Everett W. Hill of Oklahoma City, at present first vice president; Harry Bert Cradick of Minneapolis and Frank H. Lamb of Iloquiam, Washington. Chicago, Cleveland and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, are the leading cities bidding for the next convention.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By the terms of the will of August P. Degner, on Thursday, June 19, at 1 p. m., at the house on the respective premises, will be sold the Degner 80-acre farm, Section 31, Bradford township, Lee county. This property is improved with house, barn and other buildings, best kind of land in very good neighborhood. Well tiled and fenced. An 8-room house and nearly an acre of land in Lee Center will also be sold. Robert H. Scott is the executor of the estate.

LIKELY CAUSES OF EXPLOSION TO BE INVESTIGATED

Three Possibilities to Be Probed By Naval Inquiry Board.

San Pedro, Calif., June 16.—Three possible causes of the premature explosion which killed 48 men in a turret aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi, Thursday were slated for closer scrutiny at today's session of the naval court of inquiry.

One possible explanation of the deadly blast was that the air pressure operating the breech mechanism of the 14-inch rifle was too low to eject from the barrel every glowing particle of powder.

Another theory supported by testimony was that one of the linen linings attached to powder bags was left on a bag of explosive when it was rammed into the breech and that a smoldering portion of this tag clung to the gun bore and ignited the new charge before the breech could be closed.

Gun Was Slow

The third explanation suggested was that there was something wrong with the gun which turned on its crew. Observers testified that the big rifle in previous firing, Thursday, had been from 5 to 10 seconds late—a delay deemed significant, in view of the fact that the crew of number 2 turret was the fastest crew in the fleet.

Eighteen witnesses were to be called today.

As the naval court prepared to convene aboard the Mississippi, sailors and police stood guard around the morgue housing the bodies of the disaster victims. The guard was placed yesterday, after a raid by sailors on a radical meeting Saturday, had resulted in alleged threats of violence.

The court of inquiry will not meet tomorrow when civilians and fleet personnel will join in paying tribute to the dead at open-air memorial services.

WALTONIANS TO KINGSTON PARK ON PICNIC 22ND

All Members League in Northern Illinois Are Invited.

Local chapters of the Isaac Walton League of northern Illinois will assemble at Kingston Park near Rockford on June 22 for an old-fashioned basket picnic and a day in the woods. Notices have been received by the officers of the Dixon chapter and plans are being made to send a good sized delegation to the picnic. President Will Dilg of Chicago and other noted speakers have been secured to address the Waltonians at this time.

Kingston is just a few miles north-west of Sycamore and is accessible from every direction by fine roads. The park is in a beautiful natural grove on the banks of the Kishwaukee river. It has a flowing spring, bass, blue diamond, comfort stations and is complete in its equipment. There will be bait and fly casting tournaments and exhibitions of expert casting as well as other stunts and games for which suitable prizes will be awarded. A championship baseball game will also be a feature. Waltonians, their wives and children, will be invited to spend the day and enjoy the program.

It has a flowing spring, bass, blue diamond, comfort stations and is complete in its equipment. There will be bait and fly casting tournaments and exhibitions of expert casting as well as other stunts and games for which suitable prizes will be awarded. A championship baseball game will also be a feature. Waltonians, their wives and children, will be invited to spend the day and enjoy the program.

Local chapters of the Isaac Walton League of northern Illinois will assemble at Kingston Park near Rockford on June 22 for an old-fashioned basket picnic and a day in the woods. Notices have been received by the officers of the Dixon chapter and plans are being made to send a good sized delegation to the picnic. BEGIN HERE TODAY

Peter Newhall, Augusta, Ga., flew to Alaska after being told by Ivan Ishmin, Russian violinist, he had drowned. Paul Sartcheff, Ishmin's secretary, Ishmin and Peter's wife, Dorothy, had urged him to flee to South America. He joins his wife, Dorothy, in response to a distress signal at sea, giving Larson his sea jacket. Their launch hits rocks. Larson's body is buried as Newhall's Peter, rescued, finds injuries have completely changed his appearance.

Dorothy and Ishmin go to Alaska to return Peter's body. They do not recognize Peter, but their head guide, a storm strander, tells them to "Change name," a message from a chance, Dorothy believes to be from Peter, telling her to accept the Ishmin's marriage proposal. Ishmin goes to his hunting trip. Dorothy goes to his aid.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

She was too terrified, now, for coherent thought; yet a dim glimmer of a startling truth came to her as she groped for the man's bleeding hand. To her he was not merely a guide, a faithful servant. Her prayer for his life was heartfelt; indeed it seemed the first theme of her own life. He was not just a fellow mortal who had given her service; he was her companion, her stronghold and shelter; but this was only the beginning. In that instant of stress the voice of her heart spoke clearly above the confusing babble of lesser tongues, and some deep tenderness almost forgotten—was thrilled into life. This rough man of the open made an appeal to her that could no longer be denied, that reached to the secret places of her being.

The time might come when false pride would manifest itself again, and she would be ashamed of this heart secret that the fateful moment had revealed; but she yielded to it freely now. She took his rough hands and kissed their wounds, then she kissed his lips to see if they were still warm with life. Then she pressed his battered head against her breast and rocked him as a child rocks its doll.

She kissed the homely, bleeding face, then tried to coax him back to consciousness. . . . They must not linger here, in the creek bed and under the cold roof of snow. He was not dead; she was sure of that now.

As she mounted nearer the head spring of the little stream that flowed at her feet, the body itself had decreased in depth, and Peter had fallen scarcely more than thirty feet. The fall, too, might have been somewhat broken by striking first the almost sheer wall of the gully just above the water. Yet he might easily be mortally injured. His present deep sleep might usher him, without waking, straight into death.

She began quietly to bathe his wounds. The cold water was an effective stimulant, and soon he stirred and opened his eyes.

It moved her to the depths to see a little, faint echo of his friendly smile come to his lips. It was almost imperceptible, yet its meaning was plain; that he would stand between her and disaster, that she need not fear. "Don't trouble about me," he told her faintly.

The drops of water on his bleeding face were not wholly from the cold stream. Her tears lay there, too. "Don't try to talk," she cautioned him.

He closed his eyes, rested, and full consciousness came back to him. "I don't believe I'm badly hurt, Mrs. Newhall—just shaken up and scratched. Maybe I can get up."

"You mustn't try it. I'll run back for help."

"I'm afraid it wouldn't be best to wait. . . . It's pretty cold down here—almost freezing. The best plan is to try to reach the camp."

He spoke softly, with evident difficulty; yet she was convinced at last.

Forget them. Start with a clean slate and spend your energies in keeping it clean for the future.

man, the results of which would have been to throw all of his dead weight against her and hurl them both down the steep grade in a perilous fall. Pete gave his own strength of will to this battle; and he was breathless and fainting when he relaxed on the crest of the gully.

"It's not so cold up here," the man told her, when he had rested. "There's no use of my breaking your heart open trying to half-carry me. I think you can leave me here and send the natives to bring me in."

Dorothy glanced at the white sky and heeded the threat of winter in the wind. "We'll go on," she said.

They went on, and that first, long, high-insuperable mile proved definitely the quality of Dorothy's basic metal. She found that she not only had spirit to endure; but that her physical strength itself was greater than she had ever dared dream. An unconquerable spirit moved in her today—its mystic origin she did not yet know or attempt to trace—and she would have got the injured man to shelter if she had had to carry him on her back. This was spared her, however, because after the first mile Pete slowly but steadily began to rally.

Ever his heart beat with greater power; the vital energy flowed through the footpaths of his nerves in an ever greater stream. He carried more of his own weight, depending less on the strength of his companion. When vivid consciousness swept back to him and he saw the girl's white, drawn face, he took her arm from his and tried to go unaided; but she would not hear of this. She drew his arm through hers again with a strange, tender urgency; and she would not let it go.

"But I'm all right now," he objected.

She studied his pale face and somber eyes. "Let me help you a while longer, Pete," she told him.

Down the steep grades, through the brush thickets, across streams and over hills she led him, sustaining him with the touch of her hand, leading him, cheering him with her voice and her smile. At last she laid him on his cot.

She built up the fire, with fast, eager motions, and heated a pot of water. Then sitting beside him, she bathed his wounds. She did not know why he suffered at the touch of her warm, caressing fingers, or whence came the sea of tenderness that flowed through her finger tips upon him. The moment, to Pete, seemed actually to redeem and brighten some of the dark hollows in the trail of his life.

Dorothy helped him off with his wet boots, and still postponing the dread moment of self-analysis, tucked his blankets about him. Then she built up the fire and prepared a warm nourishing soup which she fed him, spoonful at a time. She did not remember that she was dead tired herself, that she was accustomed to receiving, rather than giving service; and she let herself forget, for the moment, that this man was of a plane and sphere far below hers.

Unaware of her own aching muscles, she worked cheerfully about the camp, tending to Pete's every comfort, warming his great, cold hands between hers, even cutting fuel to keep the fire warm at the mouth of the dugout. It was increasingly evident that he had received no mortal injuries

ABROGATE TWO-THIRDS RULE MAY BE DECIDED UPON

Democrats Consider a Change in Convention Procedure.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, June 17.—The possibility of abrogating the time-honored two-thirds rule governing the nomination of candidates by the national democratic convention, continues today to be the most discussed topic among leaders and delegates assembled here.

It is generally believed that unless a move for discontinuance of the rule comes from the McAdoo forces, the procedure which has been followed in the democratic gatherings since the days of Andrew Jackson, will be followed in the coming convocation.

The arrival tomorrow of W. G. McAdoo to lead his convention forces may result in a definite announcement as to his attitude.

The sentiment of the McAdoo men already here, on this question was described last night by Judge D. L. Rockwell, Mr. McAdoo's manager, as follows:

"The McAdoo Camp Passive
The friends of Mr. McAdoo did not start the agitation for the abrogation of the two-thirds rule, George E. Brennan is entitled to that distinction. The McAdoo men are merely passive about it. We shall not object if Mr. Brennan and his followers start a drive to do away with the rule, which everyone admits is archaic, and out of harmony with the spirit of democracy. The republicans operate under a majority rule."

Although no definite statement has come from the Smith camp as to their attitude, it is asserted that he prefers to abide by the present procedure.

Despite the fact that close friends of Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, declared that he was not a candidate for the chairmanship of the rules committee, it was predicted today that he would be drafted for the post.

It was announced that Indiana and Illinois delegates, led by Taggart and Brennan respectively, will begin arriving today. John W. Davis, Carter Glass, Oscar W. Underwood and other candidates for the nomination are expected to establish headquarters this week.

Would-be Dog Thief Gets Hot Reception

(Telegraph Special Service)
Mt. Morris, June 17.—A man whose identity is unknown and who paid his first visit to Mt. Morris last week, was accorded a somewhat thrilling reception by members of Sheriff Sherd Dodson's force. The stranger, who had claimed to be from the east, arrived in Mt. Morris and visited a local dog kennel where he looked over some breeds of canines. He had practically decided upon one of the animals and left, saying that he would return Sunday.

The stranger evidently hurried to Rochelle, where he purchased ammunition for a wicked looking revolver at a hardware store and then inquired for a taxi to take him to Mt. Morris after dark. The hardware dealer notified Chief Ambrose Hodges and the county motorcycle officer, who got in touch with Chief Deputy Sheriff Geo. Hanning, at Oregon, all suspecting the stranger of being a member of a gang of bandits. His actions were closely traced at Mt. Morris by the officers who found him in an alley leading a dog. When ordered to stop, he began to run and as a barrage of hot lead was laid down at his feet, he loosed the canine of his own selection and established a new record for sprinters. The dog was returned to its owner and the prospective owner had not been seen since. He had returned after dark, according to the officers, to secure the animal without making the necessary settlement.

Open House this Week at State University

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Urbana, Illinois, June 16.—Thousands of farmers, with their wives and other interested persons are expected to attend the annual Agricultural "Open House" of the University of Illinois this week, and review the progress made by the university in developing improved farming methods.

As in former years a route covering approximately seven miles has been laid out over the thousand acres in the college plant and the various points of interest marked with signs giving results and facts.

Visitors this year will see at least five new attractions, each of which marks a distinct step in the development of the institution's program for improved agriculture. These will include the new horticultural field laboratory building and the new agricultural building, both of which are now completed and in use; the important Percheron stallion, Upright, which heads the herd of approximately 40 mares kept on the farm; a new gas engine laboratory, and the new poultry plant, which will be in the process of expansion and remodeling and which when completed will house 3,000 head of mature stock and provide space for the raising of from 5,000 to 6,000 chickens annually.

The visitors will get a glimpse of the scope of the college's work early when they view the Morrow and the Morrow plots are the oldest in the United States, having been laid out in 1879 by Professor George Morrow, then dean of the agricultural college. Because of the long time which they have been in operation and the striking results which have been obtained on them the plots take on a new interest each year and are visited by thousands who are interested in practical and successful methods of soil, and building soil. A number of countries already have sent word that they will have large delegations here during the week. Forty automobiles will bring visitors from Edgar county, while Platt, Ford and Vermillion counties also have signified that they would send large delegations.

Census bureau estimates there will be 35,055,000 autos in the United States by 1950.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia. "Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms—hot flashes, insomnia, etc.—and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimony in the H. L. BRADFORD, 109 Armistead St., Phoebus, Va.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.
